

North Dakota farmers raise sheep for their wool. Each year they raise enough to make 625,000 sweaters.

